LANCASTER.

Master Clarence Traylor, aged seven years, son of Alexander Traylor, died Wednesday. The remains will be buried today, Thursday, at Goshen, at 11 A. M.

Lookout for a wedding in which two very prominent, popular and worthy young people will be the contracting parties, and an influential family of Lincoln and one of Garrard will become connected by affinity.

Mr. M. F. Ekin is here adding new members to the Macedonia lodge, which already numbers about 50 strong. Since the prompt payment of a death claim here, many of our best citizens are anxious to take the cheap and safe protection which it offers.

The largest and finest as well as the cheapest line of Christmas goods in diamonds, jewelry, clocks, cut glass, China, fancy goods of every description, dolls, toys, and everything else to be found in a first-class, up-to-date stock. Thompson, the Jeweler, Lancaster. It

Capt. and Mrs. Louis Landrum leave for Washington City next Saturday, where the captain goes to look after a pension claim which is justly due his mother and for an amount which was due his father, Gen. W. J. Landrum, for services as collector of internal revenue.

Senator Harris' proposition to put Rockcastle into the 11th Congressional district is a move in the right direction, as that district is hopelessly republican and the move will increase democratic chances in the 5th district, thereby insuring the election of Gov. McCreary in 1898.

The K. C. branch of the I. & N. R. R. had a new conductor on Wednesday and Rice Henge, who drives the trains for his stable, saw him step off as the train approached and asked him if he would need any livery, whereupon the conductor said that he would try to get to Richmond with his train. Rice backed out and said that he had several horses that could beat it to Richmond.

It is very gratifying to the many friends of Miss Christine Beasley here in her native city to hear that she has been appointed by Secretary Long to christen the "Kentucky," a new man-of-war. The honor was bestowed where it properly belongs and was given to one of the most elegant and lovely young ladies in the nation, possessed by nature of the highest and purest traits of her sex and being highly cultured.

Messrs. A. D. Ford, James Elmore and George T. Higginbotham constitute the committee, sent out by the fiscal court, to fix a value on the turnpike roads. They are progressing nicely with the work and will be ready to report in a few days. It is hoped that their estimate will meet the approval of all parties concerned, and that the roads will soon belong to the county.

There are only two entities, Messrs. E. W. Harris and W. K. Shugars, in the race for the post-office and they are both confident of success. There may be dark horses and such are mentioned and, considering personal influence and political claims, it is hard to tell who will get the prize. One of the aspirants claims a direct promise from the official who will control the appointment, and he is not a man who goes back on promises.

The message of President McKinley is replete with good things for the few and is monstrous poor reading for the many. The powers of certain corporations are enlarged, the trusts are allowed to go unobscured and everything is recommended that should not be. His civil service views are not endorsed by his own party. He congratulates Congress on account of the folioleous conditions under which its meeting occurs, when, in fact, the country is in the midst of a panic, brought about by vicious legislation against the masses, and prosperity exists nowhere except among the fostered and protected trusts and corporations. He writes a very good history of the Cuban war and fails to offer any comfort for the oppressed island. He favors currency reform, but fails to express on the financial question except to hope for international bimetalism. It is a document devoid of that clear and independent manner of expression and suggestion, which should characterize the chief executive of a great nation.

Free of Charge to Sufferers.

Cut this out and take it to your druggist and get a sample bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. They do not ask you to buy anything. This will show you the great use of this truly wonderful remedy, and show you what can be accomplished by the regular use of it. This is no experiment, and would be disastrous to the people, did they not know it was so infallibly true. Many of the best physicians in the world, in their private and public practice, are relying on it as the most secure remedy. It is a guarantee. Try it at W. B. McRoberts' Drug Store. McKINLEY'S MESSAGE.

PRINCIPAL POINTS OF THE PENDING PRODUCTION.

After felicitating Congress on the conditions, justifying sincere congratulation and calling for our grateful acknowledgment to a beneficent Providence, which has so signally blessed and prospered us as a nation and expressing sincere satisfaction over the fraternal feeling existing between all the sections of our common country, the president wades into the currency question, which he regards as the most important since tariff legislation has been disposed of.

I earnestly recommend, as soon as the receipts of the government are quite sufficient to pay all the expenses of the government that when any of the United States notes are presented for redemption in gold and are redeemed in gold, such notes shall be kept and set apart and only paid out in exchange for gold. This is an obvious duty. If the holder of the United States note prefers the gold and gets it from the government he should not receive back from the government a United States note without paying gold in exchange for it.

I concur with the secretary of the treasury in his recommendation that National banks be allowed to issue notes to the face value of the bonds which they have deposited for circulation, and that the tax on circulating notes secured by deposit of such bonds be reduced to one-half of 1 per cent. per annum. I also join him in recommending that authority be given for the establishment of National banks with a minimum capital of $25,000. This will enable the smaller villages and agricultural regions of the country to be supplied with currency to meet their needs.

I recommend that the issue of National bank notes be restricted to the denomination of $10 and upward. If the suggestions I have herein made shall have the approval of Congress, then I would recommend that National banks be required to redeem their notes in gold.

It is not wise to recognize the Cuban insurgents as belligerents, at the present time as it is to be seriously considered whether the insurrection possesses beyond dispute the attributes of Statehood which alone can demand the recognition of belligerency in its favor. There should be no interference in Cuba until the new Spanish policy has been given a fair trial. Forceful annexation of Cuba is impossible.

Sure of the right, keeping free from all offense ourselves, actuated only by upright and patriotic considerations, moved neither by passion nor selfishness, the government will continue its watchful care over the rights and property of American citizens, and will abate none of its efforts to bring about by peaceful agencies a peace which shall be honorable and enduring. If it shall hereafter appear to be the duty imposed by our obligations to ourselves, to civilization and humanity, to intervene with force, it shall be without fault on our part and only because the necessity for such action will be so clear as to command the support and approval of the civilized world.

If the treaty is confirmed, as every consideration of dignity and honor requires, the wisdom of Congress will see to it that avoiding abrupt assimilation of elements perhaps hardly yet fitted to share in the highest franchises of citizenship and having due regard to the geographical conditions, the most just provisions for self-rule in local matters with the largest political liberties as an integral part of our nation will be recorded to the Hawaiians. No less is due to a people who, after nearly five years of demonstrated capacity to fulfill the obligations of self-governing Statehood, come of their free will to merge their destinies in our body politic.

It gives me satisfaction to state that the special envoys have already demonstrated their ability and fitness to deal with the subject, and it is to be earnestly hoped that their labors may result in an international agreement which will bring about recognition of both gold and silver as money upon such terms and with such safeguards as will secure the use of both metals upon a basis which shall work no injustice to any class of our citizens.

International arbitration can not be omitted from the list of subjects claiming our consideration. Events have only served to strengthen the general views on this question expressed in my inaugural address. The best sentiment of the civilized world is moving toward the settlement of differences between nations without resorting to the horrors of war.

The territory of Alaska requires the prompt and early attention of Congress. The conditions now existing demand material changes in the laws relating to the territory. As it is to the interest of the government to encourage the development and settlement of the country and its duty to follow up its citizens there with the benefits of legal machinery, I earnestly urge upon Congress the establishment of a system of government of such flexibility as will enable it to adjust itself to the future needs of greatest population.

A more rigid national quarantine is urgently needed.

The important branch of our government known as the civil service, the practical improvement of which has long been a subject of earnest discussion, has of late years resulted in increased legislative and executive approval. During the past few months the service has been placed upon a still firmer basis of business methods and personal merit. Much, of course, still remains to be accomplished before the system can be made reasonably perfect for our needs. There are places now in the classified service which might be exempted and others not classified may properly be included. I shall not hesitate to exempt cases which I think have been improperly included in the classified service or include those which in my judgment will best promote the public service. The system has the approval of the people and it will be my endeavor to uphold and extend it.

RELIGIOUS.

Philadelphia has more than 40,000 Methodists more than any other city in the world.

The average life of the 123 Presbyterian preachers who died last year was 66 years.

Rev. J. M. Matthews will preach at McKinney Saturday night, Sunday morning and night.

Rev. George Darsie celebrated his 20th anniversary as pastor of Frankfort Christian church Sunday.

Local option in the Glade carried by a majority of 16 to 1. Richmond Clarks. G. W. Young did it.

Rev. W. S. Grinstead preached at Phil, Casey county, Tuesday night. He went at the invitation of Miss Minnie Ruple, who is teaching there, and was given a most cordial welcome.

At the late convention of colored Presbyterians, held at Birmingham, Ala., a separate, self-governing Presbyterian church was decided upon. The organization of such a church will be completed in May, 1898.

The new Centenary Methodist church at Shelbyville, is now virtually completed, with the exception of the pews, carpet and interior fixtures, and it is the present intention to hold the dedicatory services on Sunday, December 12. Dr. H. C. Morrison will preach the dedicatory sermon.

The current Baptist Argus contains a splendid picture of Rev. J. Hartwell Dew, who has just closed a most successful meeting here. He was born in Lattar, S. C., June 19, 1864, and graduated at the Furman University in 1890. At present he is pastor of the Logan street church in Louisville.

In announcing it has secured the services of Rev. J. M. Bruce as its field representative, the Baptist Argus says: Bro. Bruce's conservative and gentle, and yet vigorous spirit has drawn him very near to us, and enables us to commend him to our readers without qualification or reservation. Favors extended to him will be appreciated by us and returned as occasions may present themselves.

The meeting closed at the Baptist church Tuesday night. Rev. Jos. H. Dew preached two weeks, day and night, and endeavored himself to sin and sinner by his earnestness in trying to do good to others. His sermons were practical, and as he says he will have to give account in the judgment for what he preaches, he speaks what he believes to be the whole truth, preferring to please God rather than the fancy of men. He says sinners stay out of the churches because hypocrites are in them, but they will have to spend eternity with the hypocrites in hell. He stated that he loved the people of Stanford and wanted them to remember him in their prayers. The faithful pastor, Rev. J. B. Crouch, baptized the new converts Wednesday night at the Christian church. The splendid singing during the meeting is to a considerable extent due to Mrs. Crouch, the organist, who is an excellent musician. Many asked prayers of Christian people who did not join during the revival. The number of additions was 17.

STREET EXTENSION.—A citizen suggests the following: A much-needed improvement to the city of Stanford is the extension of Mill street to Maxville street, a distance of about 50 to 75 feet, at the outside not over 100 feet. The cost of this extension would be very small. If this extension were made, the saving in wear to Main Street alone would more than pay for all costs of the extension and would save the heavy pull up Mill street, all the heavy hauling from the Danville and Hustonville pikes would then go through Maxville where the grade is slight and would be a substantial improvement to the town; the attention of the new council is called to this matter. They are also asked to investigate the railroad crossing on Danville pike, which is next to impossible to pedestrians, in bad weather. X

DOWN IN CASEY.

Our efficient correspondent, Dr. R. A. Jones, keeps our readers of this section so well posted on the happenings of Casey that I fear the few notes herewith will prove stale and uninteresting. The clever doctor was cut out for a newspaper man and that profession is minus one good one because he took up the forceps rather than the quill.

The cold weather and a most excellent opportunity to kill hogs kept a good many from attending circuit court Monday and the crowd was cut up to the average on the first day. Even the newspaper drimmers, with the exception of your humble servant, were blinded by the blizzard and only one patent medicine man had the nerve to come.

The docket is not large this term and again there is no murder case on it, although young Pelly, who killed Turner a few weeks ago, is in jail and has no doubt been indicted ere this. His case will not likely be tried this court. Judge Jones, in his charge to the grand jury, laid especial stress on the violation of election laws, selling votes and the like, but it will prove a case of love's labor lost if the grand jury spends much time investigating such matters. It is almost as hard to convict a man for selling his vote as it is for a camel to go through the eye of a needle or a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

This is Commonwealth's Attorney Minnie's last court in Casey and little or no regret is expressed at it. "Old Compromise," as he is jokingly spoken of, has not made an altogether popular official and he will go out of office unwept and unscathed. Mr. Aarons, of Russell, was elected to succeed him.

Both democrats and republicans of Casey are feeling good over the election. The former are rejoiced at cutting down the majority several hundred and the latter because they got all the offices. A democrat remarked in my presence that if $200 more could have been raised by his party it would have carried everything before it.

Judge James Garnett, of Columbia, a democrat and a gentleman, announced his candidacy for appellate judge in a timely speech Monday afternoon. He is a very popular man, is well equipped for the honor he seeks and if his friends are as numerous in other counties as they are in Casey, he will be elected.

Liberty is still growing and good, substantial houses are rapidly being built. The town covers nearly twice as much territory as it did when I made my first trip there and its change of appearance is even greater than its growth. One of the prettiest homes is that of Prior Young, who by the way, is not yet in possession of a partner to occupy it.

My friend, W. D. Staggs, who is known around Hustonville as "Santa," is still running the Napier Hotel and is doing well with it. In days gone by it was known as the democratic hotel or headquarters and the Exchange as the republican camp, but now the Napier catches 'em a'coming and a'going, regardless of politics or anything else.

The fallacy in business of Mr. R. T. Pierce is a subject of general regret. At one time one of the richest men in the county and at most all times the biggest-hearted, he has probably done more business than any man in Casey and few there are who have done more for the up-building of the town of Liberty. As before stated a reckless credit business broke him up and it is doubtful if a tenth of the $55,000 he has on his books can be collected.

A splendid new church has been built in the place of the old one at Liberty and a very decided improvement it is. The Christians erected it, but other denominations will use it at their pleasure. Rev. J. Q. Montgomery was mainly instrumental in having a new house of worship and it stands a handsome monument to his memory. The Baptists thought of building a church, but decided to postpone action for awhile.

Yosemite, once a town of no mean pretensions, is rapidly drying up. The railroad and timber trade kept it lively for years, but now the former has gone and the latter nearly so, and there's no telling what's going to become of the town with the California name. The Middleburg people have invited her citizens to come over and live with them, but they have not yet accepted.

The burning of saw mills in Casey has gotten to be a serious thing. Several have gone up in ashes during the past month and at least a half dozen since Jan. 1. Incendiarism is charged, but nobody has yet been arrested and very little time has been spent in trying to ascertain who the guilty parties are. R. C. W.

The Coal That You Didn't Order.

Is what got you a cold reception at home.

If you want to have "a hot time" at your house 24 hours in the day, use good coal. It burns clean and hot too fast; throws out a steady, strong heat and holds fire all night. Take a trial ton to-morrow, and when you order a ton you will get a ton.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - DEC 10, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

SIX PAGES.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY evidently believes that in the multiplication of words there is much wisdom, as he takes 15,000 or more to say what a concise and pointed writer could have said in half that many. From the liberal extracts that we give from it on another page, the drift of the document may be gathered. Very naturally he deems the currency question the most important, since his protective tariff scheme has been disposed of. He says that gold payments must be maintained and greenbacks when redeemed should not be reissued except for gold, which would in a measure break the endless chain. Should it be necessary to sustain the gold reserve, he asks that the secretary of the treasury be given authority to sell bonds at long or short periods, bearing a less rate of interest than is now authorized by law. National banks should be allowed to issue notes to the face value of bonds deposited and banks with $25,000 capital should be permitted. From an original free silverite, these propositions seem strange, but he recovers himself sufficiently to say that he earnestly hopes that the labors of the special envoys may result in an international agreement which will bring about recognition of both gold and silver as money upon such terms and with such safeguards as will secure the use of both metals upon a basis which shall work no injustice to any class of our citizens.

The president's objections to recognizing the belligerency of the Cubans is as disappointing in many quarters, as his recommendations for the annexation of Hawaii will be in others.

The pie brigade gets cold comfort in the matter of removing the civil service restrictions, the president not only favoring the present law, which he says the people approve, but promising to uphold and extend it.

On the whole the message is common place and disappointing, disappointing alike to the gold standard people as it will be repudiated by those who hold to the principles of bimetalism, while those who hunger and thirst after the flesh pots of office will be thoroughly disgusted with it. The whole paper reads like a man, who is anxious to keep in with all sides and say nothing especially to cross anybody.

THE Lexington Herald says it is looking rather impatiently for the fight, such former strong sound money papers as the INTERIOR JOURNAL and others were to make within the party for the principles they advocated. Our esteemed contemporary must bide a wee. The currency question is not now an issue and it is useless to agitate, even if we had such a desire, an issue which for the present at least settled. The INTERIOR JOURNAL will never play into the hands of the republicans, preferring if needs be to yield every whit of its convictions on the money question to helping that party perpetuate its propensity for protection and paternalism, with other dogmas almost as repulsive.

THE Hunter-Deboe crowd are making mouths at Gov. Bradley for ignoring them and their gang in the appointment of committees to be present at the christening of the "Keptucky." His attention being called to the fact, Gov. Bradley said he had not heard of the Hunter-Deboe faction since the election and if he has ignored it he has no apologies to make nor does he believe that the people of Kentucky will shed many tears because those fellows were overlooked. The governor is right. That crowd is as repulsive to the people of the State as republicanism should be everywhere.

IN the course of an excellent article on the requisites of a man for governor, the Anderson News makes this suggestion, which will touch a popular chord wherever the splendid young democrat is known: If the State desires to honor a gifted son, one who is competent in every respect, one who will perform the duties of the office in the same manner as a successful business man conducts his private affairs, against whom the most bitter republican partisan can say not a word, a man whose life—both public and private—is an open book, let them name the Hon. Robert Harding, of Danville.

THE recommendation of Secretary Gage for currency reform is so complicated and cumbersome that it will not even be understood, much less adopted. The suggestion of a new department to be known as the redemption division, is in keeping with the party which believes that every member of it should be on the government bounty either as an office holder or pensioner.

THE business of contesting seats in Congress goes on and will so long as the contestant is paid $2,000 and expenses to do so. There are 21 before this Congress, by republicans who ran solely for the chance to feather their nests by contesting.

THE Rev. T. J. Keith, of Vincennes, Ind., who refused a pension and returned to the government $495.86 which had been paid him, deserves to have his name written in letters of gold and pictures of silver. His is the only case of the kind on record and it is refreshing to see that there is one man at least, who fought on the Federal side, who is too honest to help rob the government, as thousands of deserters and coffee coolers are now doing. Gen. Boynton, a gallant Union general, says: "If the pension lists could be printed, every community in the land would be disgusted with its revelations. Wealthy men in large numbers would be found. Thousands would be revealed whose disabilities were only temporary, and so long since disappeared. A small army of men would be discovered to whom their pensions are in no sense a necessity" and he might have added in no sense entitled to the bounty of the government. There are men right here in Stanford who have no more right to pensions than they have to common respect, being strong and able-bodied, and without disease, except manufactured or imaginary.

A POLL of the Senate shows that no important financial legislation can be accomplished at this session. All the republicans favor the annexation of Hawaii, except Cannon and Pettigrew. In the House, the democrats are for recognizing the belligerency of Cuba, while many leading republicans also favor it. Of course the House will do as Speaker Reed tells it in that matter as all others. His power over the body is absolute and he wields it at will.

THE Courier-Journal in discussing Eighth District politics, says the republican managers have decided to make a hot fight for Congress next year and that Davison will be nominated to succeed himself. That depends very much. If Gov. McCreary is chosen to carry the democratic banner, as he should be, Mr. Davison's health will be too bad to make the race, bear that in mind. Otherwise he may run.

THE Shelby News agrees with us that we must name our best man for Congress next year, but persists that it shall be Gilbert instead of McCreary. We do not believe that any new or comparatively unknown man should be nominated at this critical time, but one who is time tried and fire tested and one who has never known defeat.

POLITICS

A bill has already been introduced in Congress for postal savings banks. The Mt. Sterling Gazette very sensibly opposes the annexation of Hawaii. Secretary Gage approves Congressman Evans' plan for a bill reducing the tax on whisky to 70 cents.

Senator Allen, of Nebraska, introduced a resolution for the recognition of Cuba's political independence.

John G. Woods, who was removed as superintendent of mails for partisan reasons, has hopes of a reinstatement. Dr. Hunter has recommended Thomas Simpson for postmaster at Franklin, and J. E. Taylor for postmaster at Glasgow.

Senator Morgan is almost the only prominent democratic Senator who favors the annexation of the leprosy Hawaiian Islands.

It is said that Dr. Hunter will not push his contest against John Rhea, at least any further than to get the $2,000 usually allowed contestants.

Hon. William L. Bryan has taken his departure for Mexico, where he goes for recuperation and rest. He will also doubtless look into the silver question there.

Mr. Grosvenor, rep., in the House, made a violent attack on the civil service, as at present administered, and was strongly supported by Mr. Bailey, dem., of Texas.

The president did a very wise thing when he omitted reference to the scheme to have postal savings banks, which would be another step toward paternalism.

Following will be appointed postmasters: W. E. Gohart at Bohon, J. H. Hart at Conway, Tom Hays at McKee, J. O. Vanarsdell at Rose's Hill and D. E. Carten at Langford.

Secretary Gage's estimates for the next fiscal year foot up a total of $462,647,885, of which by far the largest item is for pensions—$141,257,750, or about one-third of the whole.

Editor Walton is industriously booming Col. Robert Breckinridge for attorney general on the next democratic State ticket. The Stanford JOURNAL is a mighty good book to count on in a scrimmage.—Louisville Post.

The republican leaders have determined to make their hardest fight in the Congressional contests in Kentucky next year in the 3d, 5th, 8th and 9th and probably the 10th districts. The democrats had a plurality in all these districts this Fall, but the margin is so small that the republicans think they have a good chance to win.

John B. Thompson tells the Courier-Journal that he will run for Congress if the people want him and that he intends to see that the people of the district have a chance to decide between a man who stands squarely upon the Chicago platform and any man who sought to evade the direct issue and was half-hearted in his support of Mr. Bryan, the nominee of his party.

Mr. C. E. Sommers, of Hardin county, is a candidate for sergeant-at-arms of the Kentucky Senate—a position which he held with credit last session and we hope he will be given the place again.

There was a sort of row and a rumpus in the House over the question of referring to the ways and means committee portions of the president's message which the committee on banking and currency claimed as within its own special province. It was decided in favor of the former and shows that Speaker Reed intends to maintain perfect control of all currency legislation. The ways and means committee, headed by Mr. Dingley, of Maine, is a more convenient instrument in the hands of the anti-reform speaker than is the committee on banking and currency headed by the intractable Mr. Walker, of Massachusetts.

News Briefly Told

An associate justice of the Montana supreme court killed himself. Herman Paul Schultz, a wife murderer, was hanged at Milford, Pa.

A Louisville Negro shot his sweetheart because she smoked cigarettes. Available cash balance in the U. S. treasury $228,501,796; gold reserve $158,036,787.

Gov. Atkinson, of Georgia, vetoed the anti-foot ball bill, saying the game tends to keep alive courage, manliness and endurance.

Will Croot, the English pantomime died from the effects of a knock out blow delivered by Jimmy Barry, of Chicago, in a contest before a London club.

John F. Morgan, the triple murderer, who escaped from jail at Ripley, W. Va., was recaptured at Walton, W. Va. He will be executed Dec. 16.

At Vimeburg a celluloid comb worn by Miss Bertie Wilson, caught fire and burned off all her hair. Her clothing, arms and shoulders were also burned.

The foot ball game between the Vanderbilt and Virginia teams for the championship of the South, resulted in a tie, neither side being able to score.

Immediately after sending his message to Congress, President McKinley returned to the bedside of his mother at Canton, O. She is still alive, but sinking rapidly.

The Fayette fiscal court has purchased the Winchester turnpike for $17,000, leaving but one toll gate standing in the county, the Versailles pike being the only toll road remaining.

The two days' record of Miller, one of the riders in the six days' bicycle contest in New York, is 860 miles, two laps. This is within a small fraction of 18 miles an hour for every hour of the 48.

Sam Crabtree, the Lawrence county convict sent up for house breaking, confesses that he murdered two of his cousins by pushing them off a railroad bridge. It was supposed that they fell off accidentally.

The new home for the feeble minded children was completed Tuesday and the keys were turned over to Superintendent Huff. The children will be moved from the Walcott place, which they have been occupying since the fire a year ago some time this month.

The postoffice department has ruled against the so called "missing letter" and "missing word" contests which are being conducted by a number of publishers. All newspaper and periodicals containing advertisements of this character are forbidden transmission in the mails.

FARM AND TRADE.

W. T. Dishon sold to J. K. Christian & Co. 57 turkeys, 642 pounds, at 7c.

Farmers tell us that the wheat is growing right along and looking well.

Ed H. Edwards sold to Hunn & Coffey 40 acres of his farm near Moreland at $40.

William Routt has rented Ed H. Edwards' farm of 100 near Moreland for 1898 for $200.

S. M. Owens sold to S. T. Harbison, of Lexington, a three-year-old harness gelding for $175.

Lyon & Allen bought in the West End a lot of hogs at 24c and some butcher stuff at 2 to 2 1/2c.

Wheat went to $1.01 in Chicago Wednesday and the brokers say it will mount right along.

Some brokers are predicting that December wheat will go to $2 per bushel. It went to 99c, Tuesday.

G. D. McCarty, the Mt. Salem merchant, refused $225 for his rooster, Nat Goodwin, the other day.

John Phelps, of Fayette county, sold to Kahn 100 fat cattle at 4 3/4c. Sterling McCann, sold 60 at a fraction under 41 cents.

Jack Hugueny bought of Leonard Johnson, 50 barrels of corn for which he paid $1.75 per barrel.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

At Ed H. Edwards' sale at Moreland Tuesday corn in the crib brought $1.45; horses $20 to $48 and milk cows $18 to $35. The household and kitchen furniture brought big prices.

W. A. Tribble's great show mare, Kate Malloy, is in foal to Nuthurst, G. and C. L. Coell's pacer. As the mare is a saddle and the stallion a pacer, it is rather uncertain what the product will go.

A Chicago speculator and his son are said to have so manipulated the market that they can now close out December wheat at $1 and clear $3,000,000, or hold on and force the price up to $1.25.

W. O. Brock has bought several lots of corn with lots to feed on, at $1.75. The Winchester Democrat also reports sales of 30 good native ewes at $3.25 and 10 mountain ewes at $1.50.

John B. Embury weighed up yesterday the four car loads of cattle he bought of A. M. Pence, Wm. Beck, T. A. Coulter and E. P. Woods some time ago at 41c. They averaged 1,350 pounds.

The Richmond Register says that court day at Norris Brothers' stock pens there were probably 1,500 cattle, which sold all the way from 2 1/2 to 4 cts. Fox reports over 100 mules on the market, which brought from $50 to $75, but the demand was dull. Horses sold at from $18 to $85.

Monte Fox and Weid bought Saturday of J. C. Caldwell 205 export bees at 41c. They weighed close to 1,550. Fox and Rice sold to the North Licking Coal Co., three mining mules for $245.—Advocate.

The Kentucky commissioner of agriculture says that much wheat was sown in November increasing the acreage from 90 to 103 per cent. over 1896. It is looking well. The commissioner warns the people against the Australian rule that many are keeping for pets. They increase monthly four to six at a birth and are more to be dreaded than the English sparrow.

MT. VERNON.

There is talk of a wedding in the near future.

Col. J. W. Colyer brought a number of moonshiners here last Thursday for trial.

Elder Joe Severance filled the pulpit at the Christian church in the absence of Elder Forrer, who is conducting a meeting at Brodhead.

The infant child of Mrs. Chas. Golden died of whooping cough Sunday and was interred in the family burying ground near the residence of her father, Mr. James Myers.

Dr. Malcolm, of London, is at the Miller house. Mrs. Tilman Gilpin is the guest of Mrs. Ed Woodall. Dr. E. J. Brown attended the contest. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sparks have a new daughter, Mattie.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Poynter have improved their residence recently until they now have one of the handsomest and most comfortable homes in the county, where their friends always receive a most cordial welcome.

A number of friends attended the morning exercises at the close of the public school. The wee ones acquitted themselves well in the selections chosen by their teacher, Miss Ella Joplin. The treat of sweet meats given by Prof. Albright was enjoyed immensely by all.

Miss Ella May Saunders attended the contest. Mrs. J. W. Nesbitt returned from Junction City Friday, where she met her niece, little Miss Ruth Ruppert, of New Orleans. Miss Belle Cox, that most efficient musical instructor, will give a concert Friday evening. Mr. Geo. Fish has been quite ill.

The wedding bells sounded in the vicinity of Wilder last Tuesday and Mr. Henry Catron led to the marriage altar Miss Belle Marot, one of Rockcastle's most beautiful women. Eld. Duval officiated. A number of friends from this place attended. The happy couple boarded the noon train to visit relatives in Somerset and other points.

Prof. Edgar Albright closed his school with a Gold Medal Contest, in which six beautiful girls took part. Miss Annie Thompson, charming in her girlish simplicity recited "The Black Horse and His Rider;" Miss Hattie Adams recited most touchingly "The Surrender of Quebec;" Miss Joel Colyer won great praise by the charming way in which she spoke "Mala-hide;" Miss Fannie Mullins won the medal by the skillful manner in which she rendered "The Fall of Lexington."

The touching manner in which Miss Ottie Brown spoke "Nobody's Child" brought tears to many eyes, while the little speaker who came last, Miss Fannie McClure, fairly brought down the house by the amusing recitation "Purchasing a Cradle." The judges were only out a short time, when they returned, awarding the first prize to Miss Mullins and the second to Miss Thompson. The music, speeches, etc., added to the interest of the entertainment.

MISS KATE BLAIN says that she hopes all the teachers will come in either Saturday or Monday and get the 20 per cent due them.

THE city council raised Police Judge Carson's salary from $100 to $150, which he gets in lieu of all fees and costs, which now go to the city.

WE HAVE THEM.—Rubbers, overshoes, gum boots, mackintoshes, slickers and umbrellas. In fact, anything to keep your feet dry. Severance & Sons.

THE man who comes to court Monday and fails to pay for his paper does not deserve a good Christmas and he may not see any at all, if he puts off paying his bill at this office much longer.

THIRTY-FOUR shares of stock in the Farmers Bank & Trust Co., belonging to the estate of Greenberry Bright, will be sold at auction at 1 P. M. next Monday, Dec. 13. Farmers Bank & Trust Co. and G. P. Bright, executors.

A GENTLEMAN from this section tells us that Miss Vessie Anderson's school near Rev. W. T. B. White's in the East End was to have closed with pleasing exercises yesterday afternoon, after which the pretty teacher and Fleming F. Cammisa, brother of the county clerk, were to have been made husband and wife.

THE Pencil of the Danville Advocate is advocating an electric car line from Junction City, through Danville to Hustonville, and then to Hickman, on the Kentucky river, but it will doubtless prove like Old Billy Allen was wont to characterize such things—as a barren identity.

THE supervisors appointed by the town to go over the assessor's lists spent Monday and Tuesday on them and they will be in session again to-day to hear reasons why a dozen or more of Stanford property holders should not have their property raised. Messrs. T. J. Foster, W. A. Tribble and Geo. B. Cooper compose the board.

GO to the entertainment at Walton's Opera House to-night given by the young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church. Its dramatic reading and musical program will be well worth the price of admission, besides you will contribute to a good cause by going.

BAD BOY.—Thomas Ward, of Laurel, is in pursuit of his son, Frank, whom he charges with stealing a horse and who he thinks went to Wayne. He says the boy is incorrigible and that he will prosecute him fully. He made his younger brother rob a Swiss and he is in the penitentiary for it and says he is also charged with outraging a young woman.

THE Covington Commonwealth says that Dr. James Riffe, who is from this county, and who was health officer of that city, was turned down by a Star Chamber session of the Health Board, not on charges preferred for negligence of duty, but for the reason that he failed to give bond and had no office down town. The paper says the action is not regarded as a very clean one and the testimony certainly was not sufficient to warrant such action. He will refuse to recognize the action of the Board.

IN addition to the dramatic reading and personations by Mr. Starling L. Marshall, the young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will present a musical program, in which Miss Cowen's music class and a great many little boys and girls will take part. Miss Isabella Bailey will also play a violin solo and there will be other features. The entertainment will occur at Walton's Opera House, to-night, Friday, at the low admission of 25 and 50 cents.

CLAIMS.—The fiscal court at its session Tuesday ordered the list of claims printed and Clerk J. F. Cummins lodged them in this office yesterday for that purpose. The total amount is $16,881.95 against $14,505.12 last year. The court allowed sundry people who handled or worked on the county roads $5,350.08 and to those who worked likewise on the pikes $1,582.32. Last year the road claims were $4,357.34. This year it takes 74 pages of a large record book to hold the names and amounts that each man is allowed for road purposes.

A DISPATCH says that Editor W. G. Overstreet, of Corbin, has skipped with all the money he could raise. His wife will continue the paper.

THE Globe, J. L. Frohman & Co., Danville, makes an effort to spread over our sixth page today to tell how low they are selling goods. Now is your chance to buy.

WARREN & SHANKS are opening a Dazzling Display of Holiday Goods and hadn't the time to write an advertisement this issue, but look out for next week and go and see for yourself.

THE last several days have been "weather breeder" in the language of the ancients. They were as warm as spring and Tuesday and yesterday were as sunny. After probable showers to-night, the signal service said it will be slightly colder Friday.

BOYLE county, which had so far been exempt from the miserable toll gate raids had one Wednesday night, when about 25 men went to the gate on the Danville and Stanford pike and after taking down the pole told Keeper Connelley that if it was replaced the house would be burned. Connelley poked his head out of the window while the work was going on but he was ordered to take it back or it would be shot off.

THE Boston Stars gave a most delightful entertainment almost, however, at the expense of the managers of the Opera House, not a sufficient number of our people appreciating a good thing to lend their aid and comfort.

Miss Jaybelle Hill's singing was excellent, Miss Rose Garrett's violin solos exquisite, Miss Bertha Brewer's piano performances and reading of a high order of talent, while Mr. Frank G. Reynolds in his comic songs and other comedies was a whole show in himself and almost made the empty seats laugh.

HUSTONVILLE.—A three-months old child of John Bineason, of the Fork, died of whooping cough Tuesday.—The widow of Samuel Jeffers died at her home on Carpenter's Creek this week, aged 80 odd. Mr. Charles Wheeler went to Mason county Tuesday to see his brother, who has just suffered a second paralytic stroke.—The Roller Mill is at a stand still because of the illness of the engineer.—It was not our Jim Goode, who committed suicide, but a gentleman of the same name, who lives on Rolling Fork.—J. Beecher Adams has resigned the city judgeship and his father, Squire L. B. Adams, has been appointed in his stead.

THE man Freedman who deserted his family at the St. Asaph Hotel nearly a year ago, and who has since been mourned as dead by the wife he so cruelly treated, has turned up in Boston, from which place he wrote his wife, who is in Indianapolis, where she went from here. Mrs. Freedman's letter did not state whether they were going to live together again or not, but as she requested Mrs. Mark Hardin and Miss Lizzie Beazley to send her children, Florence and Melba, to Detroit in the Spring, it is generally supposed that they are. Feeling that they had already done enough for the children, Mrs. Hardin and Miss Beazley supplied them with clothing, etc., and sent them to Indianapolis yesterday morning.

STONE.—A. Harvey Stone, son of Mr. W. T. Stone, died Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock after an illness of six months or more with consumption and rheumatism, aged 26. Until his illness began he was a man for the Water, Light & Ice Co. and made his employers a splendid man. He was a moral young man and by his kind disposition made friends of all with whom he came in contact. He made a confession and joined the Christian church under Elder J. T. Sharrard 10 days ago and since had been waiting patiently for the summons from above. Mr. Stone was married less than a year ago to Miss Lucy Cooley, who survives him. His remains were taken to Goshen Cemetery yesterday morning where, after appropriate remarks by Eld. Sharrard, they were laid to rest.

THE fiscal court made very little progress towards freeing the rest of the pikes, at its meeting Tuesday. An offer was made to the Hanging Fork & Green River road of $100 a mile for its five miles, but it has not yet been accepted. President G. C. Lyon, of the Hustonville & Coffey's Mill, who sold the road subject to the action of the directors, was given till next Tuesday to make final answer. In the meantime toll is being collected. The Danville & Hustonville, through Hon. R. C. Warren, representing President Wm. Warren and the directors, offered to lease the 74 miles in this county for $2,450.70 and J. B. Paxton was appointed a committee to confer with the company. The county owns 981 of the 990 shares in this road and its part would of course be deducted from the amount. The figures asked sound very high, but the road is one of the best paying ones in the county. In 1870 it had paid back to the county in dividends the full amount of its subscription and in 29 years it has paid it back 24 times. The court will meet again next Tuesday when it will hear Mr. Paxton's report and take action with reference to it and the other roads, if possible.

Fire caused $10,000 damage to the Knoxville Woolen Mills, the largest in the South.

CAPTURED A STEAL.—Deputy Collector J. M. Carter captured a large copper still a few days ago, which had evidently been recently operated, on the premises of a German named Casbriht, near Ottenheim. He did not succeed in getting his clutches on Casbriht, but his wife, who was present, declared he had never made whisky and that he came into possession of the machinery by swapping a pair of oxen for it just to be trading.

MATRIMONIAL.

Miss Nancey, daughter of Postmaster J. B. Willis, of Richmond, and Mr. Daniel C. DeJarnett, of Bowling Green, Va., were married Wednesday.

Miss Mary, daughter of ex-State Treasurer H. S. Hale, will be married the 23d to Prof. E. D. Lovett, of Princeton, New Jersey, College.

The engagement of Miss Theodosia Leavell, of Richmond, to Mr. Matt Curry Mays, of Washington county, is announced, the marriage to take place in February, at Mr. J. B. Leavell's in Garrard county.

A marriage with several unusual features recently occurred at Paducah. The groom was a Presbyterian, the bride an Episcopalian, and the marriage occurred in a Methodist church, a Baptist minister officiating.

Ten shares of First National Bank of Harrodsburg stock sold Monday at $152.50.

Mrs. Peter M. Gentry, of Richmond, was disinherited by her father, P. B. Todd, for marrying against his will.

A. D. Blain, a grand-son of the late Col. Robert Blain, of this county, was appointed postmaster at Dry Ridge, Grant county.

James Goode, a middle-aged bachelor living near Powers' Store, killed himself with a pistol. He left nothing to tell why he committed the deed.

Winfield Blevins, of Alum Springs, was arrested in Louisville by Detective Williams on the charge of breaking in the L. & N. depot at Junction City.

The fiscal court at Danville has purchased five miles of the Harrodsburg and Danville pike at $900 per mile. This is Boyle county's first purchase of turnpikes.

John Dugan, in jail at Barbourville, for the killing of the brother of ex-Congressman Colson, has been doubly guarded since he threatened to kill Jailer Byrley.

Conductor Henry Butler, who formerly ran a K. C. train, and laid off here, is now railroading in Arizona, says the Winchester Democrat. He recently shot and wounded a Mexican desperado, who, as a passenger, tried to take the train. For this Capt. Butler was fined $50, which was paid by his friends.

A new Laurel county corporation, capital stock $5,000, incorporators, H. C. Thompson, R. M. Jackson and J. M. Boreling, attempted to incorporate at Frankfort under the name of the "Kentucky Coal Company." The incorporators were notified by the secretary of State that this name belonged to a company at Madisonville, and that they would have to select another.

COMMISSIONER'S PUBLIC SALE!

BOYLE CIRCUIT COURT

Thomas McRoberts, Plaintiff, vs. J. W. Guest, Jr., Defendants.

By virtue of a judgment of the Boyle Circuit Court in the above styled case, rendered at the January term, 1896, thereof, I will,

On Monday, Dec. 20, '97,

At 1:30 o'clock, P. M., or thereabouts, (being the first day of the December term of the Boyle County Court, sell to the highest and best bidder, at public outcry before the court house door in the town of Danville, Ky., the following described property, viz:

TWO TRACTS OF LAND!

Situate in Boyle county, Ky. First tract described as follows: Situate about two miles from the town of Danville, and on the turnpike road leading from Danville to Stanford, and bounded on the north by the turnpike road leading from Danville to Lancaster and the lands of William Yeager, on the south by the turnpike road leading from Danville to Stanford, on the east by the lands of Wm. Yeager and Reuben Gentry's estate, and on the west by the second tract herein below described, and containing 244 acres, 2 rods and 13 poles, and being the same land on which J. W. Guest and wife resided on January 2nd, 1892.

Second tract described as follows: Situate about 12 miles from the town of Danville and adjoins the tract above described, and is bounded on the north by the turnpike road leading from Danville to Lancaster, on the south by the turnpike road leading from Danville to Stanford, on the east by the land above described, and on the west by the property of Horning, and contains 41 acres and 3 rods.

Each of said two tracts will be sold in one body as a whole; the tract first described above will be first sold, and if it does not realize a sum sufficient to pay the debts and costs in this suit, amounting to $25,000.00, then the second tract will be sold. And if from the sale of both said tracts said sum of $25,000.00 is not realized, then the undersigned Commissioner will,

ON MONDAY, JANUARY 10th, 1898,

At 1 o'clock, P. M., or thereabouts, (being the first day of the January term of the Lincoln County Court, sell to the highest and best bidder at public outcry, in front of the court house in the town of Stanford, Ky., the 2 following described tracts of land, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay and raise the balance due upon said claim above mentioned after the sale of the two tracts of land in Boyle county.

First tract described as follows: Situate in Lincoln county, Ky., and containing about 275 acres, and lying at or near the town of Crab Orchard, and situated on each side of the Wilderness turnpike road, and adjoins the lands of Mrs. Farris, B. H. Farnough, Charles Adams and George Jones' heirs, and includes the lands inherited by J. W. Guest from his father, Jacob Guest.

Second tract described as follows: Situate in Lincoln county, Ky., and containing 43 acres, and being some land conveyed to J. W. Guest by the Master, Commissioner of the Lincoln Circuit Court on behalf of J. W. Farris' heirs.

Terms.—Sales will be made on a credit of 6 and 12 months, equal payments, and the purchaser will be required to execute bonds with approved surety, payable to the undersigned, having force and effect of a judgment, and bearing interest from day of sale, until paid, at six per cent. per annum, and with lien retained on the property as a collateral security for the payment thereof.

The amount to be raised by the sale, including costs, is $25,500.00.

Miss Helen Sharp has taken charge of the Yosemite postoffice. M. S. McMullen, the retiring P. M., goes out with the best wishes of his former constituency.

Henry Felley, who shot and killed Mart Turner, at Dunnville several days ago, was caught in Adair county and is now languishing behind the bars of our county jail.

The Casey county teachers' association convened at Liberty Saturday. On account of the disagreeable weather, only a small band of Casey's educators were on hand.

The clothing of Virtie, the 3-year-old daughter of P. F. Ward, caught fire and before anybody could reach her the flames had consumed most of her apparel and she died in a few hours in great agony.

Most of the county schools are out. The free school at this place will close Dec. 16. Prof. Ford will spend his Xmas at his home in Shelby county.

The prospects are flattering for a good school after the holidays.

The Mountain Echo is wailing over the action of the Courier-Journal. We noticed the London sheet spoke mightily about the C-J. during the campaign and copied very extravagantly from the then bolter sheet. As Bro. Watterson has said he is a democrat and not a rad, we may hear more of the wailing and gnashing of teeth among the republican brethren. The rads thought they had a cinch on the Courier-Journal.

We have noted about half a dozen republican newspapers that went up the spout after the election and two others that announce they are out of politics. The Middlesboro Herald and Somerset Reporter were the only papers in the 11th Congressional district that supported Bryan. Since the election two more democratic journals have appeared. They are the Columbia News and London Kentuckian, which will doubtless be very efficacious in disseminating democracy.

W. P. Wesley is moving to his father's, in town. Michael Taylor returned Tuesday from North Dakota, where he went to look out a place. He purchased an 800 acre farm and a half interest in another large farm. He will now raise wheat for all it's worth. He will probably stay in Kentucky for a year yet, but is greatly pleased with the North-west. J. W. McIntosh has returned from a three-month's visit to relatives in Canada, Buffalo, Boston and other Eastern points. Mrs. E. S. Wells has returned from a visit to relatives in Southern Missouri. V. R. Coleman will spend Xmas at home.

CRAB ORCHARD.

Mr. W. E. Perkins has purchased of Mrs. Sue Holmes her pretty little cottage on Stanford street.

Messrs. Jessie Fox and Chris. McClure shipped a car load of mules to the South a few days ago.

Mr. R. H. Bromagh returned home last week from his long attendance at the races. Miss Lizzie Grimes, of Stanford, was a guest of the Misses McWhorter. Miss Thomson, of Mt. Vernon, has been on a visit to the Misses Fish in the country. Miss Maud Silver, of Preachersville, visited Miss S. Jones last week. Mr. George W. DeBard is having his property improved, and W. A. Carson has had some improvements done on his father's home.

Mr. Robert Collier has rented the Haldeman & Buchanan house on Lancaster street for next year. Mrs. Sue Holmes will have a sale of her household effects the 18th and she will leave shortly for Elkton to reside in the future. Her many friends here are loth to have such a fine business woman leave our town. Mr. and Mrs. John McClure will make their future home near Jellico, and their neat little cottage is now vacant. Judge W. E. Walker, a handsome gentleman of Lancaster, the new U. S. gauger here, is a guest of Mrs. Martha Harris this week. Misses Grace Tudor and Hallie Edmiston have been on the sick list for the past few days. As Miss Grace is our best reporter we miss her pretty face while she is sick.
